

2026 mileage log

IRS business rate:

72.5¢ through June 30

76¢ from July 1

Name _____ Week or month of _____

Vehicle _____ Sheet number _____

[illegible]

For each business drive, write the date, where you went, why, and the miles. A round trip can go on one line. Drives between home and your regular workplace are commuting, which doesn't count. Keep this log with your tax records for at least three years. Not tax advice.

Add up the year on page 2, or at tenthsoffice.com/tools/mileage-calculator
Or let your iPhone keep the log: Tenthsoffice, at tenthsoffice.com

2026 year summary

Add up each month from your log pages, then apply the rate for each half of the year.

Name _____ Odometer, Jan 1 _____

Vehicle _____ Odometer, Dec 31 _____

January to June 72.5¢ a mile

Month	Business miles	Parking & tolls
January
February
March
April
May
June
Jan to Jun total

July to December 76¢ a mile

Month	Business miles	Parking & tolls
July
August
September
October
November
December
Jul to Dec total

Your 2026 standard mileage deduction

January to June business miles × $0.725 = $

July to December business miles × $0.76 = $

Parking and tolls, all year + $

Total deduction = $

Business use of the car business miles ÷ miles for the year = %

Round each amount to the cent. Miles for the year are the December 31 odometer reading minus the January 1 reading.